There are two different methods to create a message in Evangelus. This article will look at the Composer tool.

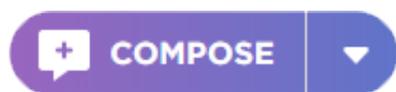

The Composer is designed to send simple, quick messages that do not contain a lot of images or complex layouts. Very much like a standard email that you send to a co-worker or friend. You can do basic text formatting, insert images, links, and emojis. The composer is perfect for those times when you don't need to send a more complex formatted message.

ACCESSING THE COMPOSER

Since Evangelus is about sending messages, you will find the composer icon located in many different locations. Anytime you see the following icon, just click it to open the composer.

Also, for quick access anytime, simply click the Compose button located in the main Evangelus
