Offenses Against Truth Part Two

Recently, in one of my bulletin articles, I shared Part One from the Catechism of the Catholic Church on "Offenses Against Truth." Below is Part Two of that same section. These paragraphs highlight specifically the topic of lying.

2482 "A lie consists in speaking a falsehood with the intention of deceiving." The Lord denounces lying as the work of the devil: "You are of your father the devil, . . . there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks according to his own nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies."

2483 Lying is the most direct offense against the truth. To lie is to speak or act against the truth in order to lead into error someone who has the right to know the truth. By injuring man's relation to truth and to his neighbor, a lie offends against the fundamental relation of man and of his word to the Lord.

2484 The gravity of a lie is measured against the nature of the truth it deforms, the circumstances, the intentions of the one who lies, and the harm suffered by its victims. If a lie in itself only constitutes a venial sin, it becomes mortal when it does grave injury to the virtues of justice and charity.

2485 By its very nature, lying is to be condemned. It is a profanation of speech, whereas the purpose of speech is to communicate known truth to others. The deliberate intention of leading a neighbor into error by saying things contrary to the truth constitutes a failure in justice and charity. The culpability is greater when the intention of deceiving entails the risk of deadly consequences for those who are led astray.

2486 Since it violates the virtue of truthfulness, a lie does real violence to another. It affects his ability to know, which is a condition of every judgment and decision. It contains the seed of discord and all consequent evils. Lying is destructive of society; it undermines trust among men and tears apart the fabric of social relationships.

2487 Every offense committed against justice and truth entails the duty of reparation, even if its author has been forgiven. When it is impossible publicly to make reparation for a wrong, it must be made secretly. If someone who has suffered harm cannot be directly compensated, he must be given moral satisfaction in the name of charity. This duty of reparation also concerns offenses against another's reputation. This reparation, moral and sometimes material, must be evaluated in terms of the extent of the damage inflicted. It obliges in conscience.

St. Thomas More Church Kneeler Pad Project

The Knights of Columbus would like to facilitate the installation of new kneeler pads and bumpers for Saint Thomas More Church. The current pads and bumpers are original; many are ripped, and most of the padding is not effective. A sample of the new kneeler and bumpers can be felt in the Usher Pew in the back of the church on the left side. Your contribution will go directly to replace the kneeler padding, and the Knights of Columbus will provide all of the labor. The total cost of the project is approximately $20,000, and the Knights of Columbus is matching the first $6,500 in donations. Please use the QR code to reach the donation website or mail a check to Lisa Casavant at St. Thomas More. You can sponsor one kneeler for only $75. Any donation is welcome.

The Return of the Prodigal Son: A Story of Homecoming

by Henri J.M. Nouwen

A chance encounter with a reproduction of Rembrandt's The Return of the Prodigal Son catapulted Henri Nouwen on an unforgettable, deeply personal, resonant meditation and spiritual adventure that led him to discover the place within where God has chosen to dwell. Nouwen probes several movements of the parable: the younger son's return, the father's restoration of sonship, the elder son's resentfulness, and the father's compassion. The themes of homecoming, affirmation, and reconciliation will be newly discovered by all who have known loneliness, dejection, jealousy, or anger. The challenge to love as God loves, and to be loved as God's beloved, will be seen as the ultimate revelation of the parable known to Christians throughout time.
