Thank you to our Sunday Mass Attendants!

Please keep Jude, Michael & Thomas in your prayers as they head off to college.

As I look back on my time working at Sacred Heart, many great memories come to mind. I couldn't ever pick a favorite, but one of the ones up there is when I went to check the Ave Maria Hall just to find that it had become the battleground for an intense game of capture the flag. I'd seen a lot of things before, but that was so surprising that there wasn't much to do besides laugh it off! That said, the part of this job that will stick with me the most is my time spent in the nursery. I've had the blessing of seeing several groups of children go from crawling and still having pacifiers to talking, riding bikes, and even more. It's been such a joy and honor to be able to play a small part in the lives of all the children that have come through the nursery.

Through the years, it's become apparent that small things can make a big difference. Whether it's unlocking some extra doors during the rain so people don't have to run as far, or putting in some extra scoops of lemonade powder in the lemonade so it's not quite as watered down, people notice the small details and it makes a difference. I hope to carry the things I've learned from this job through to the next chapters of my life, which will start in the fall when I begin studying aerospace engineering at the University of Florida! While I will be sad to leave the Sacred Heart community, I'm thankful for everything you all have done for me in my time here! Thank you all!

--Michael Baroco

My favorite part of working at the Cathedral was getting to see all of the different people who came to the church for special events like banquets and baptisms. I learned a lot about how the spaces of a church campus are used outside of just Sunday mornings. My favorite memory was just chatting with other staff and parishioners while doing the dishes every week. After the summer, I will be studying biochemistry at the University of Notre Dame.

--Thomas Ramsey

My favorite part of working at the Cathedral was seeing the swarm of children at the 9:30 mass sprint to the lemonade and morning snacks trying to get the best item. The biggest thing that I took away is how to understand and empathize more with those less fortunate, especially as I met people while helping in the food pantry.

My favorite memories were the numerous times that I was able to walk into the church and watch for a bit which priest was saying each of the masses that day and catch all of their different homilies. I'm going to attend Tulane University in New Orleans, where I will be majoring in Exercise Science and I will be in the Navy ROTC unit as a college programmer.
